A CUP TO THE DEAD.

HIN AY

The

W.

bers,

rika

tig si

4.62

44 4

apt.

CHAPT

to separation of brothers, sisters, and see fill be seen that this power gives, with wear fleet, wint is for moder, however points ever poetry of military despetr, but still the species of postiers is street. Ws meet 'neath the sounding rafter, And the walls around are here. As they shout to our peaks of haughter, It seems that the dead are there, But stand to your glauses, stendy (We drink to our commutes' eyes

Harrah! for the next that dies, Not here are the goblets glowing; Not here is the vintage sweet;
The cold, as our hearts are growing, And dark as the doom we meet, d stand to your glasses, stendy;
d soon shall our pulses rise—n the dead stready;

Hurrah, · for the next that dies. Not a sigh for . "he fot that darking; Not a sigh for . Sprients that sink;
Not a tear for the Sprients passenger,
We'll fall, 'midst the Sprients, As mute as the wine So stand to your glasses, b Tin this that the respite be. One cap to the dead already; Hurrah! for the next that dies.

Time was when we frowned at others! We thought we were wiser then; Hat ha! let these think of their mothers Who kepe to see them again? Not stand to your classes, steady; The thoughtless are here the west; A cap to the dend atready; Harrah! for the next that dies.

There's many a hand that's slinking; There's many a check that's another.
But soon, though our hearts are breaking.
They'll harn with the wine we've draine. So stand to your glasses, stendy, Tis here the revival lies; A cup to the dead already; Hurrah! for the next that dies.

There's a mist on the glass congesting, The the harrienne's flery breath; And thus does the warmth of feeding Turn ice in the grasp of beath. Hot stand to your glasses, standy; For a moment the vapor fles; A cup to the dead atreats; Hurrald for the next that dies.

Who dreads to the dust returning? Who shrinks from the sable shore? Where the high and baughty yearning Of the soul that shall sting no more Not stand to your glasses, stendy; The world is a world of los: A cup to the dend already; Hurrah! for the next that dies.

Cut off from the land that hore us, Betray'd by the land we find, Where the brightest have gone before us, And the dullest remain behind. Stand! stand to your glasses, steady; Tis all we have left to prize; oup to the dead already; Hurrah! for the next that dies,

ALLIGATORS IN ENGLAND.

BY C. H. WILLIAMS. "ALLIGATORS in England! Come

-eh ?"

puff at his cigar, "I would tell you why his presence in the north. might not, perhaps-"

fluous accent of some Hassau or Mej- but whether from a three, a bullet, or I hope. Which way do you return?" all into the seventh heaven of rapt at- "Both Gholab and his master were not toward the lake. fitted to our requirements by the nicest | what bangles are?" in one place how that mercenary Tom the ankles."

twenty years nearer to the beginning for such is the name we will now know prefetting hither and thither in the full fully were they occupied with their task to quiz my equanimity, 'don't treat them by.

"The family estate was strictly enyounger Westerton, would go to a dis- horroralways manifested by the Hindoo it ever since. I went at once to the and, what is more, I have seenduty in India. The old gentleman had, approach its banks. Nothing less than picion, of what I scarcely knew. The in his youth, suffered some rather severe the most positive orders fro a his master door was now unlocked, and I went in love disappointment, and was long sup- ever brought him near, and it was ludi- to find them both eagerly engaged in never desired, to meet again." posed to have taken an irrevocable yow cross to see the speed with which he the manner represented to me by the against any further dealines with the hastened from its vicinity as soon as, servant, and as, to all appearance, they that he had his negligew and heir to live od his master's permission to retreat, to themselves, though I declare a shepwith him; and the young man, seeing The latter accounted to us for this strik- here's dog, who suspects, but is not quite you. the fact of heirship reflected on every ing dislike by relating an incident which certain, that some vagabond curs have side, as turally came to look upon his occurred in one of the Indian rivers near been worrying his master's sheep, and allimate accession to the property as which Gholab's childhood was passed, longs to fly at their throats, must feel approach a running stream, much less almost a 1 ving of course, and when his He was one day, in company with any very much as I did. uncle 'shock off the dew-drops from his other youth, paddling about in the "An inquest was duly held. All the and appreciated on both sides.

"ALLIGATORS in England! Come, when we were started by the arrange of the white parsons who come, Major, is not that just a little too totally unexpected, of our course for the present at the trial. Ghotab—the other totally unexpected, of our course for the parsons who totally unexpected, of our course for the parsons who totally unexpected, of our course for the parsons who totally unexpected, of our course for the parsons who totally unexpected, of our course for the parsons who totally unexpected, or our course for the parsons who totally unexpected to the parsons who to the parsons who to the parsons who to the parsons who to the parso totally unexpected, of our countries in the first of the erled the Major, throwing arrival in England; the contemplated that I went up to the gig, which he led shock (though that for a while it extraord of dishimself leisurely back, and taking a long marriage, heard of on his landing, for drawn to the roadside, and in which he ty was) this sad event occasioned to the stera infested the stream, and vocifer

I think so, but that the telling would "He did not come alone. A wonders my approach. involve something of a story which ful collection of Oriental curiosities asaight not, perhaps—" aight not, perhaps—"

But he was interrupted by a chorus of terfly to the handkerchief of a Thug; I am ended our by business of the very ever, in my mind's eye the vision of a comments of the poor vicina, had been volces, "A story! What! a story!" as curiosities which were under the espeif that were not the very thing our ears did charge of a Hindoo retainer, cholab, prised if I find myself tossing on my olive-branches springing around her, the table before him. When these were all thirsting for. Thanks to our and a retainer's retainer, who, if they outward voyage to India instead of which quite precludes the propriety of things were produced, I came from my friend's generosity, and the goodness of were not Thurs themselves, looked, I dancing at my consin's wedding. By that unusually orthodox temination, station somewhat in the rear of the acm most exemplary handlord, our other could not help thinking, eminently well the way, what o'clock is it? My watch Not that his intended wife was heartless cased, advanced toward the table, keep thirst is in the fairest way of being qualified for the dignity. That he should bue stopped. Can you give me the est or unfeeling. No; while she mourned ing my face averted from them, and gratified. A comfortable room, lots of have brought these worthles with him set time? Very provoking, is it not? for him, she mourned for him sincerely; then taking up the chain and fetter, easy-chairs, an open window to admit excited our surprise; but that he ex- I mean having to leave just at this par- but time, with its alleviations, temper- turned slowly round and confronted the most fragrant of evening breezes placed by informing us of their devotfrom the bluest of seas, glorious wine edutatehment to himself, for some vital yeu will have. Half past twelve, you smart, and his remembrance fieled into hand. For a few seconds the gave of and more glorious good-fellowship, service rendered to them in India, I say, Thank you, My uncle quite sees there is nothing wanted but the melli- mink it was the saving of Cholab's life; the necessity for my going. Good sport, must of necessity cause to stand apart the last degree, was evidently more of so fair a promise? Besides, you must riosities before mentioned. In truth, I ers on the estate. Well, I must not de- thy. not underrate stories; now-a-days ev- think I never came upon the former but tain you. Half past twelve, you say. erything is done by appropriate stories. that he was rubbing, polishing, or in Good-by, good-by.' Setting aside education in general, and some way working upon some queer, "And so he broke off his almost soour beloved magazines in particular, uncouth looking object or other. Once liloquy, which either the impatience of me to one of the lesser towns on the trial went on spoke never a word again, see what has been done and will be done I came suddenly upon him in a planta- his horse or his own excited manner river, where time soon began to hang though so fleredy animated before. Still with them too. Isn't wine-bibbing and tion at some distance from the house, loading to repeated checks at the bridle, rather heavily on my hands. Ocea- the trial went on and the judge was about drunkenness put down by pretty little and, as my curiosity had always been only to be balanced by compensating signally I would, out of the meresticiles to pronounce sentence of death, when, stories in pretty little books, and sins somewhatexcited on his account, I stood touches of the whip, had made a decidness, turn into the court of justice there, starting saddenly from his account, I stood touches of the whip, had made a decidness, turn into the court of justice there, more beinous still cradicated by ance- for some moments observing his labors edly uncomfortable proceeding. He was but was seldom rewarded in my quest trance, Gholab threw up his arms, and was bribed to vote, and that noble Dick "Just so. Well, our friend was busily lovely afternoon, with warm, bulmy a character that, neither during the re- too; the man was dead-" resisted the temptation? And, in an engaged in altering and shaping what breezes just faming the trees and hedge- mainter of my sojourn there, nor for a "And you think the circular abraother place, how-but, faith, if I go on appeared to me to be an ernament of rows into graceful animation; the rich long time after, had I anything to comlonger I shall be in the position of spur- this description, adding to it a strong cornlands lying becausely in the vale, ring a noble steed, ch, Major? and at clipping spring, and a link or two of with their frieged robes of Autumethe same time keeping the door barred chain. He started up when he became trated woodlands drawn irregularly and against his egress. A thousand par- conscious of my vicinity, with a greater negligently about them, and in the discuss as a mixed crowd of guards and offendbut that I should say, to the "varsal mes of gesture than I decrease the corne dutating latts, whose varied curves of world," as little girls do to an obnoxious sion justified, though he was an Oriens become stood out in the rich blue sky in to noe, unmistakable features of the for some time, evineing little interest in himself up in his studio or laboratory be reckoned one, especially with the and more secluded parts, where none of over whose doings the strictest watch workmen, and ordered them to desist. for the instruction and benefit of mans younger portion of our party. I don't them cared to follow, never doubting, was preserved, the result was that they The foreman, however, having heard kind than to interest himself actively wonder at it, as there was a beautiful however, that when tired of exercise were apprehended in a covered boat how matters stood, refused to stop work their Summer vacation resumed their in the rough-and-tumble of life. He lake on the grounds, with smooth grassy and exploration, he would return as moored in the centre of the stream, alwas not, however, without an occasion- margins all along the rich meadows, and usual, and join their party when evenwas not, however, without an occasions of the first in the series of the stimulus from his father, who, as the stimulus from his father, who, as the shallow enough to be safe to all, but representative of an ancient and well-endowed family, deemed it incumbent upon himself and his heir, among other responding depth, and where several upon himself and his heir, among other responding depth, and where several upon himself and his heir, among other responding depth, and where several upon himself and his heir, among other responding depth, and where several upon himself and his heir, among other responding depth, and where several upon himself and his heir, among other responding depth, and where several upon himself and his heir, among other responding depth, and where several upon himself and his heir, among other responding one of the house of the house of the first victims. It was supposed that a with the waters of fashionable resorts, skilful diver, watching the refreshed their victims. It was supposed that a with the waters of fashionable resorts, accident revealed the body to a keeper who happened to be passing. It had of one being separated from the restrictions and struggle ensued, which so emasted their victims. It was supposed that a with the waters of fashionable resorts, accident revealed the body to a keeper who happened to be passing. It had of one being separated from the restriction and struggle ensued, which the waters of fashionable resorts, accident revealed the body to a keeper who happened to be passing the remaining one of the refreshed that a winding one of their victims. It was supposed that a with the waters of fashionable resorts, accident revealed the body to a keeper who happened to be refreshed their victims. It was supposed that a with the waters of fashionable resorts, accident revealed the body to a keeper who happened to be passing the first three waters of fashionable resorts, accident revealed the waters of fashionable resorts, accident revealed the body to a keeper who happened duties by no means neglected, to extend rocky inlets broke its surface, and rens branches, and, but that it was lying over limbs, and water. Of course he was quickly extri- supposed mission—the spiritual regenthe hand of good-fellowship to his dered it, if somewhat gloomy, exceeds one of these, it is probable that the disneighbors, and of hospitality to every highly detures que and solemnly beauti- covery would not have been made so the boat, by means of a rope and bold or precautions, a severe cold and fever coptions the sermons preached on Suncame within the quiet sphere of his in- swimmer, and especially delighted in were, it was prevented from sink- of the river, drew the strangling swim- stage, of a delirium, in which he utter- ert and insidious, some open, hold, and "Thus comfortably and satisfactorily he would not unfrequently spend the was quite extinct. things went on with us, till the near greater part of a Summer afternoon in "At what hour," I asked, "did he approach of a day of considerable im- and about the lake, striking out holdly leave the house?" portance to the family of our worthy en- from the more open parts, and revelling tertainer: nothing less, in short, than like a very Triton among the rocks and "Where were the Hindoos?" the marriage of his heir to the daughter sunken trees of the deeper and less acof a neighboring proprietor; a match in cossible portion. Sometimes he would ling up and preparing to be gone. One in the doings of these wretches of suffievery way suitable and full of promise lie passive on the surface of the water, of the house-servants had seen them clent pungoncy to quickenfor coming generations of Westertons, floating almost motionless, or gently bustly engaged in doing so; indeed, so tailed, and in ease of the death of the terton's love of the water was the extreme left locked their door, and so had kept present, but - I have heard all you say, cant cousin, then in the army and on Gholab, whenever he was compelled to rooms, impelled by some shapeless susvaltorous sex; during this period it was having discharged his service, he receive had been ever since his visit. Heft hem certainly exhibit."

lean phrase, had already gone under- stances he would hardly have taken the vault of his forefathers. when we were startled by the arrival, trouble to greet me, as we somehow had "If this were an ordinary tale I am deserving individual (ahem!) who ful. Young Westerton was an excellent early, as, from being thus caught, as it of purchase of some kind at the bottom ensued, which, passing through the day were political harangues, some covthe refreshing exercise, so much so that ing into the depths of the lake. Life mer irresistibly down, when death soon ed words now best forgotten, finally ted almost biaspheneous. Dr. Bellows, while "In their master's apartments, pack-

"At one o'clock; after lunch-time."

enjoyment of youth, health, and vigor. Blatthey plainly showed him they wish- this matter lightly. I confess I am not "In amusing contrast with young Wes- ed his absence, and immediatly after he a little agitated or a little confused at name, and provided himself with a stream, when suddenly a berge allienter ordinary indications of death by drown- from its vicinitywife, and in due time a direct heir to rose close upon them, seized his com- ing were of course exhibited, and there the estate, felt no do bt a deep amount parion, and disappeared suddenly with was nothing more, with the exception laughter from all assembled in the room of chagrin and d's opointment. He him in his jaws. The shock was so of certain bruises about the right makle- here greeted me. had, however, no af w-reason to com- greaf that the poor fell w, who was sin- Joint, which might have been ognisionplain, for his polyances, and in his was as enough attached to the unlucky victim, cd by striking against the rocks or stabs carefully boked to us if he had been a never quite got over its effects, but re- in the lake, though, as one of the jury ty! Why, this fellow, Gholab, is one younger son; which, I take it, is all tained the picture of that horrible incithat, under the circumstances, could dentin his memory, to be freshened and circular and band-like appearance. I skilled, and enduring divers of the reasonably be expected. There was not intensified by any combination of wood was myself present, and a good deal East, sauch cogdinity, I fear, but a certain shell-water aball rescutibing the scene of struck at the time by the words. They "In a fever of agitation I demanded amount of all-very-well sort of inter- the mid catastrophe, a worderful resem- escaped, however, without comment, to be shown the remains of the latest course kept up between them, their rely bitnee to which, said Cousin Westerton, and, as I could not connect them in any victim. I was taken to where they lay, affive positions being well understood 'some parts of my uncle's donain do way with anything leading to suspicion. The attendants were about to disrobe of foul play, nothing further was said, the upper part of the body, when I "There was some troublesome war or "We were now within a fortnight of and the eigennstance passed from my pointed to the feet, and bade them unother on hand just at the time I speak the projected marriage, and I was one mind, to return, however, with terrible cover it there. They lifted the mat of, and we were seen-tomed to look over day out on a shooting expedition, when, distinctness and meaning thereafter. A with which it was concealed, and there, the news of the day with the sort of in- happening to pass near the turnpike-, sudden seizure of cramp was taken as round the slender ankle, was the circuterest one is expected to take in the rels road, I saw a gig rapidly approaching the cause of death, a verdiet returned har, band-like mark, the exact counteratives of one's host-a kind of lazy cu- from the direction of the Hall, and soon accordingly, and young Westerion, just part of that which I had beheld long riesity to know whether they are going heard myself hailed by Cousin Wester- about to step into the areas of active belore, when the happy home of one of to be made field-marshals, or, he Amers fon. I felt that under ordinary circumstiffs, was init stark and disfigured in the my dearest friends was turned into a burning Gauges. My duties carried stood rigid, immovable, and when the dotes compiled by line and rule, and hefere advancing on him. You know soon out of sight, and I on my rounds. of adventure by anything more than with a wild ery fell back in a fit of hor "After a while I dismissed the keeper the most petty illustrations of the rible conversions. The unspoken senscrupulesity? Shall we not hear stories "To be sure. Indian ornaments for and his dogs, having determined to doings of the Indian Themis. At last tence of a Judge more potent had not saunter quietly back alone. It was a there came a change, and of so startling only gone forth, but had been executed dala of in the way of listlessness or erton wero-" spathy. It chanced that I one day enred the court-house at one door just of oil and roses. When I was some especially bent upon a process of bans of course t bastened at checto the Hall. there, and were therefiseussing with some had not been near the spot since the course the state.

put an end to all efforts to escape.

sent. 'Why, Major,' said one,

""Stop,' said I, for I saw he was about

""What have you seen?" "I have seen the face of a man whom I never thought, and certainly ""Of whom do you speak?"

"Gholab." ". Why, that is the name of one of the villains accused, as I have informed had essentially caved in, and was really Dr. Bellows's "Church of All Souls?"

""Great Heavens!' I exclaimed; 'but

"Something very like a burst of "'My good Major, dread of water!

Pitiable shrinking away from its vicinihouse of bitterest mourning.

"Unknown to the accused, I was was standing in evident expectation of bereaved bride-to send her, with dis- ously protested his own innocence, even hevelled hair, into the woods, or to find when the bangle-like foctor, chain, and one of those gentle sorrows which we Ghalab, though plersing and intense to from those active duties life still brings wonder than alarm; but saddenly recnoun, like yourself, Major, to send us the gallows, I will not undertake to say. "I pointed in a direction which was with it. As to the heartstruck and ognition shot into his brain, and may I hopeless old father, let us draw over never again behold such terror and destention; and what marrator can resist much occupied about the museum of cuin his glowing cyclaits it seemed all "More than two years now passed unveiled) as were then opened up like away, and I was on the banks of the a vision late Hades before me. He

"The marks of the alligator's teeth." " And what became of the other-the dons; but stories -egad, I am not sure appearance of fright and a more wild- tance the slope and swell of many unhas time to recognize among them the. The old squire dragged on a broken lif playmate, "Oh, you big story."

int, and we were in a plantation at a endless variety of lovelinest. Westerion in the short distance from an English squire's limit, with its well-ordered gundens and castalian or infractor of the laws I was beyond his own doors, never beyond his to tell you certainly does look vaporish hair; and in rapty to my simple question as to what he was about, attested some and the mid-distance, and the mid-distance are then under the mid-distance, and the mid-distance are then under the mid-distance are the under the mid-distance are the mid-distance are the under the mid-distance are the events themselves which still, at whites, ell in a manner meant possibly to be ex- to the seene, when from its gates emerg- and everything connected with the adgrate sharply upon my meditations, planetery, but which had, to me, an affect a single horseman, who galloped not uninistration of justice. On my return ed a large body of laborers, and set and remind me that the circumstances, pearance wonderfully resembling the merely swiftly, but, as it seemed to me, in my quarters, I found that the very them to work to perform the simust quorum pars ful,' have not been all past-of iter Proto, indecujuror, when feartheally in the direction of the town. men whom I wished to meet with were impracticable tack. His neplace, when A strange dread came over me, and my brother officers the details of a critical astrophe which restored him to his old and witnessed the little relation of chario Dat this and many other small must. Thoughts sould with involuntary tends of an extraordinary nature, which pad position of heir to the Westerion es- ty and kindness. All honor to the brave fits soliding-g helping hand will never (here followed a lengthy puff), "I was turn besides, which have since acquired by on the agitated manner displayed by just come to light in that district. Sove- takes, as soon as he heard of the old saldier! Such as he can never be our be wavied; but let a single part of this staying at the house of an old friend significance, passed away from my mind Consin Westerton when I met film on rallindoo girls had suddenly and myse man's doings, urged either by appres exember, and such nets, by challenging be defective, and you go on a bastero, of my father's in one of the northern -at least from the surface of it-to locke the road; but he, I reasoned, could not be locked damage to the property or by our admiration and our sympathies, do antidst doubting and distribut, and tento counties in England. The squire him- them selves, however, in these mysters have been cognizant of any unusual or- when performing their ablutions in the apprehensions of a far mere formidable more to restore and consolidate the one it will tumble down at last, and self, our host, was advanced in years, one receptudes where I do believe every currence, or he would not least have inand we saw little of him, save at those atomic affection on our sensoria, at any formed me of it. Besides, might I not est by alligators. Such was the general might be revealed hastened down at bureaus, reconstruction committees, and Without a good character poverty is a times when the master of the house is time experienced, is indeed true the poly of one of them once, first to use his influence with his Radical legislation that could be crowds time experienced, is his being a large to use it is to use his influence with his Radical legislation that could be crowds to use it is to use his influence with his Radical legislation that could be crowds. expected to stand somewhat prominent and still capable of being muste promise or, far when I reached the house I found chanced to be picked up lower dawn uncle, and, that failing, to stop the ed into a century. When will our New new cannot exist where good character in doing its honors. The greater share, next, either by some mental neagle her that young Westerion had Just been the river, totally unmoutilated, and dehowever, even of this kindly duty des yould our research, or by some sympa- broadist in deal-drowned, as it appears prived of certain valuable ornaments, old man, he could not be prevailed on kindless is, after all, the touchstone of youth, and that is calm and besself in to his death. Who shall say whether taking his text from the Bible, descant-"While these particulars were being retributive justice did not show itself ed, not upon the duty of man to his narrated I became more and more agi. in this? At all events, whoever they Creator, but upon the elections; dragged tated, until I could no longer keep my were who participated in the death of into the pulpit the "glorious news from 'you my friend, they are gone where the Maine and Vermont;" speculated upon seem disturbed; can there be anything shortcomings of human justice are un- the prospects in Pennsylvania, Ohio, known, and, let us add, where the lim- and Indiana; and concluded by a prayits of human long-suffering and human er to the Almighty that He might guide mercy are far exceeded."

A RESURRECTION STORY.

Some years since an eccentric old genermer living in a town some six or seven miles westerly from the Penobscot Hiver, Maine, to dig a well. The soil and substratum being mostly of sand, old Barnes, after having progressed downward about forty feet, found one morning on going to work that the well fall to the top. So, having the desire which men have of knowing what will no, no, it is impossible; he could not be said of them after they are dead, and no one being yet astir, he concealed and here, here, of all places; his dread himself in a rank growth of burdeeks, Eev. Theodore L. Cuyler, too, opened of water, his pitiable shrinking away by the side of a board fence near the well. At length, breakfast being ready. boy was dispatched to call him to his meal, when lo and behold it was seen that Barnes was buried in the grave unconsciously dug by his own hands. The alarm being given, and the family as combled, it was decided to first cat breakfast and then send for the coroner, the minister, and his wife and children. Such apathy did not flatter Barnes's selfsteem a bit, but he waited patiently, determined to hear what would be said and see what was to be seen.

Presently all parties arrived, and began prospecting the scene of the catastrophe, as people usually do in such eases. At length they drew together to exchange opinions as to what should be cried out "Bully for him," and the done. The minister at once gave his whole growd rose to their feet, shouting, opini a that they had better level up stamping, and screaming. This was, the well and let Barnes remain; "for," said he, "he is now beyond the temptation of sin, and in the day of judgement that it would be a needless expense to ministers of religion is to save souls and his family or the town to disinter him of his clothes," and so it was decided to let him remain. But poor old Barnes, who had had no breakfast, and was not at all pleased with the result of the inquest, lay quiet until the shades of evening stole over the landscape, when he departed to paris unknown. After years, one morning he suddenly appeared (hatless and coatless as he went) at the door of the old farmer for whom he had agreed to dig the unfortunate Xenia. well. To say that an avalanche of questions were rained upon him as to his mysterious reappearance, etc., would convey a feeble idea of the excitement which his bodily presence created. But reply, the old man bore it quietly, and at I told him I would try half a dozen which his bodily presence created. But length informed them that, on finding minutes raw, on the half-shell, just to himself buried, he waited to be dug see how they went. Told him to make hausted, when he set to work to dig ed his head in trying to comprehend himself out, and he had only the day the order, but finally gave it up and before succeeded, for his ideas being waited upon some one else. much at random, instead of coming the town of Holden, six miles east of the Penelscot River.

No further explanations were asked for by those who were so distressed and well done. I asked him if he couldn't sorrowful over his supposed final restlageplace.

A PLEASING INCIDENT.

YESTERDAY, a poor one-legged Con ederate soldier, still clothed with the remnants of his worn gray jacket, sank Bank Notes, on "drau." down exhausted on the steps of the Sisry Buildings at the corner of Camp and but the bank notes, and he then ordered tiraviersireets. A Federal sergeant pass- the waiter to go to the bank and draw ing at the time, baked on complesionately, and after passing on some distance, la order not to attract attention, duletty returned and slipped a contributionings his hand. Delicately and unostentationsly as this was done, a who proposes to erect a building on it; handsome pair of eyes were watching, he can well build with safety, and all Nowever, even or into singly day despected upon his heir, his only son, a limit average specimen of his class, general circumstances. We shock our temanty, well-informed, rather reflying in disposition; and, I often thought, more likely, if left to himself, to shut wersons, among which average more through the form of the lake.

The source of his appears the total and that is calm and this is calm and that is calm and this calm and this is calm and this calm and this calm and this calm and this is calm and this is calm and this is calm and this calm and this is calm and this is calm and this calm and this is calm and this is calm and this is calm and this is calm and this is calm and this is calm and this calm and that is calm and this is calm and the constant in the southern charged in the constant in the charged in the southern charged in the southern charged in the southern charged in the charged in the southern charged in the c

Terms of Advertising.

Executor's and Administrator's Notices.

Patitorial Notices twenty cents per line,

Other advertisements inserted according to spe-

POLITICS IN THE PULPIT.

THE parsons having returned from the people to vote the Radical ticket at the coming elections. Such language one might expect to hear in the gatherings at street corners or in bar-rooms; but your political parus named Parnes was couployed by a son thinks that they are subjects good enough for the house of God. These rejoicings over elections past and prophetic, auguries of the result of elections to come were mixed up with the most undignified abuse of the President of the United States and his Administration. Are there no souls at all to be saved in Are the ways of the politicians of more importance to his congregation than the way, the truth, and the life," which he is supposed to lead them to? his discourse with a prayer that the mouth of the well, having first left his President might be led "through darkfrock and hat on the windless over the ness into light," that is to say the darkness which envelops the upholders of the Constitution to the otherent light of Radicalism, with its symbols of blood and fire and a new civil war. The other political preachers were more delicate in their illusions. Dr. Tyng informed his audience that he had his tirale bottied up, but would open it on a future occasion. With such an example before them in the pulpits filled by white preachers we cannot be surprised that the poor blacks of Zion Churcii were entertained by their colored pastor with somewhat similar, though much more moderate and Christian language; nor that when be announced that the Saviour had died for colored as well as white sinners, one of the congregation no doubt, most unseemly conduct in a thurch, but not a whit worse than the indecorum of the white parsons who The coroner likewise agreed the general opinion that the business of promulgate the doctrine of charity to all when he was effectually buried, and men; but ministers of Dr. Bellows's, and therefore coincided with the minister. Dr. Cheever's, and Dr. Tyng's stamp His wife thought that as "he had left despise all such old-fashioned notions. his hat and cout it would hardly be They evidently regard the pulpit as a worth while to dig him out for the rest political rostrum, and Instead of being the month-piece of the gespel they have become the agents of politicians and the Evil One.—New York Herald.

WHAT THEY BAT AT XENIA. THE "Fat Contributor" gives the fol-lowing experience of endeavoring to remaining incognito for about three get dinner at Xenia, on the Little Miama Railroad.

"Twenty minutes for dinner," shouted the brakesman as we approached Arriving there, I entered the diningroom and inquired of a waiter: "What do you have for dinner?"

"Twenty minutes," was the hurrled out again, until his patience was ex- a minute of it on his books. He scratch-

I approached a man who stood by the directly to the surface, he came out in door with a roll of money in his hand. "What do you have for dinner?"

" Haif a dollar," said he. I told him I would take half a dollar send me in addition a boiled pocketbook stuffed with greenbacks, and same seven-thirties, garnished with postagestamps and ten-cent scrip. Also a Confederate bond, done brown, with lettuce done (let us alone). I would like to wash my dinner down with National He said they were out of everything

A GOOD CHARACTER.

A noon character is to a young man what a firm foundation is to an artist